NEW YORK LEADERS IN LAW

Small Firm, Big Results

At The Law Offices of Ivan M. Diamond, personal injury cases aren't a sideline hustle—they're the sole focus.

Decades of personal injury law experience, New York street savvy, and laser-focused legal insight combine to make attorney Ivan Diamond a powerful advocate for victims of injury.

"My clients are experiencing some of the worst events of their lives," he says.

Awarded "best in class" in his field at Brooklyn Law School, Diamond's interest in personal injury law began early on. Since founding The Law Offices of Ivan M. Diamond in 1999, he has represented thousands of plaintiffs in significant injury, wrongful death, and medical malpractice cases, and the resulting successes have placed him amongst Multi-Million Dollar Advocates Forum's Top Trial Lawyers in America®.

With highly sophisticated legal services, Diamond competes toe-to-toe with large practices and powerful insurance companies. As a trial lawyer, he prepares for courtroom arguments from day one, ready to confront witnesses, deal with judges, and engage with juries. If he takes a case, judges and opposing counsel understand he has confidence in its strength and is willing to take it as far as the client's best interest requires.

Without excessive overhead and bureaucracy, the firm is agile and responsive. "Giving them a realistic idea of the merit of their case, responding quickly to their calls, and keeping them up to date on the progress helps lessen their burden," he says.

RENOWNED REPUTATION

Recognized amongst his peers for a nonstop dedication to justice, Diamond holds each case to the highest standard.

"Ivan Diamond is the kind of attorney you want in your corner after being involved in an accident. He is tenacious, fights hard for his clients, and combines diligence, determination, and experience with the ability to think outside the box," says Elliot Weinreb, attorney at The Law Offices of Elliot Weinreb.

When the family of a man with brain trauma presented their case to Diamond, this sentiment certainly rang true. When other attorneys wouldn't take the case, which involved improper treatment in an emergency room, he recognized a way forward. From the first meeting, he began paving a path toward compensation.

The hospital's well-funded defendants slow-walked the process toward mediation before suddenly filing a motion to dismiss. Astutely turning the tables, Diamond filed his own cross-motion for summary judgment, a move that would block the hospital from defending itself against the complaint and allow the judge to determine the size of the award. The defense reluctantly returned to the negotiation table, ultimately agreeing on a $6.25 million settlement.

"Mr. Diamond was sensitive to our sense of urgency to resolve this situation," says Nilda Roura, the sister of another client whose brother was severely injured in a nursing home. "He always kept us well informed as we went through this process, and we are very grateful that he fought for us."

"We never lose sight of the needs of our clients and the impact of their trauma," adds Diamond. "We'll always show up for trial or negotiations better prepared than anyone else in the room."
